

Ron Spinelli

Director, Sustainable Business Development

Ron has over 25 years of experience in process engineering and over ten years of experience in operations management including COO and CEO positions. Ron has extensive experience in business start ups, turnarounds, mergers and acquisitions.

His areas of expertise include developing and implementing strategic business plans to obtain increased profitability, developing focused management teams, and streamlining work processes.

Ron has held senior level positions in fortune 500 companies including President/CEO. Ron has also held board of director positions for various for profit and non profit organizations.

Ron earned his Bachelor's degree in Engineering from University of Wisconsin and Masters in Management science from Brooklyn Polytechnic University.